journal of european psychology students

Don't let your thesis go to waste!

Publish your work in the Journal of European Psychology Students!

Why publish?

- As a contribution to science your work should be available to anyone interested
- Gain experience in the publication process
- Increase your career chances by showing that you are able to publish your work

Why publish in JEPS?

JEPS applies the standards of professional journals. Beyond that you have the following advantages:

- Constructive feedback at all stages of the publication process
- Content review based on argument & methods: we don't reject your paper because it shows "non-significant" results
- Publication-process is adapted to the ressources of students
- JEPS is open access and indexed in numerous scientific data bases which ensures the visibility of your work
