Why publish?

- As a contribution to science your work should be available to anyone interested
- Gain experience in the publication process
- Increase your career chances by showing that you are able to publish your work

Why JEPS?

JEPS applies the standards of professional journals. Beyond that you have the following advantages:

- Feedback at all stages of the publication process
- Content review based on argument & methods: we do not reject your paper because it shows non-significant results
- Publication process is adapted to the resources of students
- JEPS is open access and indexed in numerous scientific databases which ensures the visibility of your work
